

FARADAY STREET PUBLIC TOILET

Works notice

April 2023

City of Melbourne is installing a new accessible public toilet on Faraday Street in Carlton.

The new toilet will replace the underground public toilet on the centre median strip east of Lygon Street. Two car park spaces will be permanently removed.

The new toilet is a modern and compact cubicle with features such as an automatic sliding door, automatic flush, touchless handwashing station and a secure locking system.

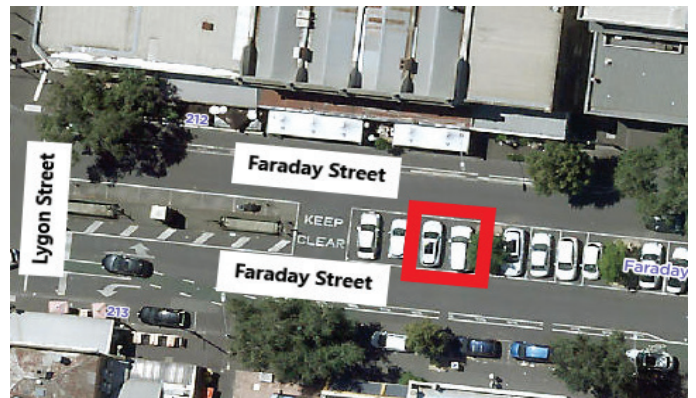

Works will commence in early May 2023 and will be complete by June 2023.

During the works, you can expect:

- Work hours will be 7am to 5pm Monday to Friday.
- Temporary fencing will be in place around the work site.
- Approximately eight car park spaces will be occupied by machinery during work hours.
- The southern lane on Faraday Street going towards Lygon Street will be closed to traffic during work hours. Traffic management will be in place to direct road users.
- A crane will be on site to lift heavy materials.

An artist's impression of the new public toilet

A map with a red square around the location of the new public toilet

For more information

To find out more, please scan the QR code below, call 9658 9658 or visit melbourne.vic.gov.au/cityprojects

Interpreter services

We cater for people of all backgrounds
Please call 03 9280 0726