Introduction

Many people within the City of Melbourne face daily challenges in accessing enough nutritious food for a healthy life. Most of us are not eating enough fruit and vegetables to meet our nutritional needs and an increasing number of people are living in densely populated areas where there is less space to grow food.

This guide has been created to provide helpful information about food access programs, services and resources within the City of Melbourne and surrounding suburbs across the following categories:

1. Food banks, parcels and vouchers
2. Community meals, including free and cheap meals
3. Food education, including classes and community kitchens
4. Community gardens
5. Fresh food and groceries, including markets, co-ops, food delivery and shopping support
6. Food rescue

The guide has been divided into these six sections to help you easily find the information you need. You can also access this guide via City of Melbourne<sup>1</sup>.

Updates to the guide

If you'd like to suggest an inclusion or update to a program or service listed in this guide, visit Community Food Guide<sup>2</sup> and use the online form. We will update the guide as often as we are able to with the information you provide.

Disclaimer

The information contained in the Community Food Guide was correct at the time of publication (April 2020) but bear in mind some information will have changed at the time of reading and it's important that you confirm the information in this guide with the agencies directly.

Programs and services listed in this guide are not endorsed or affiliated by the City of Melbourne (with the exception of council-run or contracted services) and are subject to change at any time.

Food banks, parcels and vouchers

Do you know someone who would benefit from access to affordable or even free groceries?

These programs provide food parcels or groceries and food vouchers or gift cards, such as for a local supermarket, to people in need*. Most of the services listed also offer information, support and financial or material aid to meet an immediate need.

Note: There may be restrictions or exclusions, such as cigarettes or alcohol. Also note that level of assistance is dependent on the availability of staff (often volunteers), as well as supplies of vouchers or other assistance.

City of Melbourne's community meals subsidy

Would you like information about how you can enjoy a meal with a local community group? The City of Melbourne provides community meal subsidies for organisations that support older people to meet and share a meal on a regular basis. Older people and organisations supporting older people, are eligible to apply for a $4.50 subsidy per person for a maximum number of 12 community meal sessions, with a maximum subsidy for 200 meals per session. There are currently more than 50 diverse community groups and organisations including Lithuanian, Greek, Italian, Chinese and Spanish that regularly meet to share a meal in the municipality. If you would like more information or if you have a group who is interested in applying for a community meal subsidy, contact the City of Melbourne on 9658 9658.

Food education

Learn about how food is grown, sourced and how to cook delicious healthy meals affordably through one of these food education programs. Includes cooking, food growing and nutrition classes and community kitchens.

Community Gardens

Due to COVID-19, many community gardens have either closed temporarily or restricted access applied as per the current staged restrictions in place from the Victorian State Government. The list below reflects the number of gardens open, but access may be restricted or limited.

If you know someone who'd like to grow their own fresh fruit and vegetables, but doesn't have a garden or balcony of their own, community gardens can play an important role.

Gardens and shared planter-boxes may be on public housing estates, vacant blocks, footpaths or land awaiting development.

Public housing community gardens program

Do you live in public housing and wish to access a community garden? Cultivating Community currently supports 21 public housing community gardens as well as non-public housing gardens. Funding comes from the Victorian Government through the public housing section of the Department of Human Services.

Listed are the public housing community gardens in inner Melbourne. You must be a public housing resident to use these gardens and many require key access. Access times vary for each garden.

Fresh food and groceries

Love Melbourne's markets, their fresh produce and being able to speak to growers and producers?

Or want to know how you can buy ethical fresh food and groceries without going to a supermarket?

There are a number of options in Melbourne to access fresh, locally produced fresh food and groceries.

Fresh food markets

We're fortunate in Melbourne to have a number of fresh food markets operate regularly at public locations. These often allow farmers and food producers to sell their fresh produce direct to the community, often for less than you'd pay in the grocery store or supermarket. If you go towards the closing time of the market, some vendors may sell their remaining perishable items at a discount. Entry is free to most markets, or it's a gold coin donation. Melbourne Farmers Markets are dedicated to Victorian food and producers, regional food cultures, seasonal produce, biodiversity, sustainable farming practices and the strengthening of relationships between the consumer and the producer. All upcoming markets are listed on Melbourne Farmers Market <sup>32</sup>.

Food cooperatives

A food cooperative (or 'co-op') is a group of people who get together to buy food in bulk direct from wholesalers or from farmers. Co-ops operate like grocery stores that is collectively started, owned and run by its members. By buying in bulk, co-op members are able to get fresh, quality food at reduced prices. Buying 'bulk' doesn't mean you have to buy lots of it, just come in and refill your container and pay by weight.

Most co-ops specialise in natural, organic and locally grown foods. Members usually pay an annual fee which goes towards the co-ops running costs.

Food delivery

Get groceries delivered to your home with these programs, which offer online ordering and home delivery of locally-grown produce. If you prefer to shop at the major supermarkets, Coles and Woolworths, also offer home delivery services.

For Coles, call 1800 455 400 or Coles.<sup>33</sup> For Woolworths, call 1300 666 377 or Woolworths.<sup>34</sup>

Food rescue

How do I donate food?

If you'd like to donate food, please contact the services directly to find out their specific donation requirements.

There are also larger organisations that collect surplus food for human consumption. The following is a list of collectors that provide this service within the City of Melbourne.

Who and where	What
FareShare 1-7 South Audley Street, Abbotsford, 3067 9428 0044 FareShare <sup>44</sup>	FareShare rescues food that would otherwise go to waste and cooks it into free, nutritious meals for people in need. FareShare collects surplus food from supermarkets, wholesalers, manufacturers and farms and with the support of around 1000 volunteers cooks into ready to eat meals including casseroles, pastas, curries and savoury pastries. FareShare meals are distributed to more than front line 400 charities around Victoria including soup vans, homeless shelters, women's refuges and community food banks. Please note, FareShare does not distribute meals directly and cannot support individuals.
Foodbank Victoria 4/2 Somerville Road, Yarraville, 3013 9362 8300 info@foodbankvictoria.org.au Foodbank <sup>45</sup>	Foodbank rescues food and grocery items from across the supply chain, including from manufacturers, retailers, wholesalers, farmers, importers and exporters. It also accepts donations of non-perishable food and grocery items from individuals and organisations who host food drives, and partners with companies who donate ingredients and services so it can produce essential pantry staples that are in short supply.
OzHarvest Melbourne Unit 2/854 Lorimer Street, Port Melbourne, 3207 9999 5070 melbourne.info@ozharvest.org OzHarvest <sup>46</sup>	OzHarvest is the leading food rescue organisation in Australia, collecting quality excess food from commercial outlets and delivering it direct to more than 900 charities who support people in need across Australia.
