

Report to the Future Melbourne (Planning) Committee

Agenda item 6.3

Planning Scheme Amendment C215-Kensington Heritage Review

11 November 2014

Presenter: David Mayes, Manager Strategic Planning

Purpose and background

1. The purpose of this report is to seek adoption of the final version of Amendment C215 based on the recommendations of the Panel appointed by the Minister for Planning.
2. The Panel hearing was held on 28 July 2014 and its report was received on 3 September 2014. The Panel's report is at Attachment 2.
3. Amendment C215 proposes to apply the Heritage Overlay to new heritage precincts and individual places in Kensington, transfer a number of existing heritage places into heritage precincts and remove one existing heritage place from the Heritage Overlay.

Key issues

4. Management's response to the Panel recommendations is at Attachment 3. The Panel generally supports the Amendment subject to the removal of two properties from the exhibited Heritage Overlay. Particular changes recommended by panel to note are:
 - 4.1. remove land identified as 1 Robertson Street from HO1163
 - 4.2. re-instate 35 Eastwood Street into the Heritage Overlay
 - 4.3. remove 33 Eastwood Street (front house) from the Heritage Places Inventory
 - 4.4. amend map 4HO to exclude 14 Pridham Street, Kensington from the Heritage Overlay
5. All Panel recommendations with the exception of the re-instatement of 35 Eastwood Street into the Heritage Overlay have been accepted. The reasons for not accepting this recommendation are described in management response at Attachment 3. The revised version of Amendment C215 with the recommended changes is at Attachment 4. This is the version that management recommends be adopted by Council and presented to the Minister for Planning for approval.

Recommendation from management

6. That the Future Melbourne Committee:
 - 6.1. Notes management's assessment of the Panel's recommendations and subsequent revisions to Amendment C215.
 - 6.2. Recommends that Council:
 - 6.2.1. Adopts Melbourne Planning Scheme Amendment C215-Kensington Heritage Review at Attachment 4 pursuant to Section 29 of the Planning and Environment Act 1987.
 - 6.2.2. Submits Melbourne Planning Scheme Amendment C215-Kensington Heritage Review to the Minister for Planning for approval.

Supporting Attachment

Legal

1. Legal implications.

Section 29(1) of the Planning and Environment Act 1987 (Act) provides that after complying with Division 1 and 2 of the Act in respect of a planning scheme amendment, the planning authority may adopt the amendment with or without changes.

Finance

2. Under Section 6 of the Planning and Environment (Fees) Regulations 2000, Council is required to pay a fee when requesting the Minister approve an amendment. Once the planning scheme amendment is approved, Council may also be required to place a notice in a newspaper circulating in the local area. These costs are provided for in the 2014-2015 budget.

Conflict of interest

3. No member of Council staff, or other person engaged under a contract, involved in advising on or preparing this report has declared a direct or indirect interest in relation to the matter of the report.

Stakeholder consultation

4. Amendment C215 was on public exhibition from 31 October to 8 December 2013 and a total of 12 submissions were received.
5. At its meeting on 6 May 2014, the Future Melbourne Committee resolved to request the Minister for Planning appoint an Independent Panel to hear and consider the submissions.
6. The Minister for Planning appointed a panel comprising of Suzanne Barker (Chair) and Renata Howe. The one day panel hearing was held at Planning Panels on 28 July 2014. Those in attendance at the hearing were the City of Melbourne and Mr Chris Stribley.

Relation to Council policy

7. Amendment C215 is consistent with Clause 21.06-2 (Heritage) of Council's Municipal Strategic Statement, the objective of which is to conserve and enhance places and precincts of identified heritage significance.

Environmental sustainability

8. There is no impact on environmental sustainability.

Executive Summary

(i) Summary

The Amendment proposes to apply the Heritage Overlay (HO) to a number of new Heritage Places (precincts and individual places), transfer a number of existing Heritage Precincts and individual places into new Heritage Precincts, and remove one existing Heritage Place. The Amendment implements the recommendations of two recent heritage reviews undertaken by Graeme Butler and Associates titled The Kensington Heritage Review 2013 and the Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013.

Of the 12 submissions lodged in relation to the Amendment, 11 opposed the application of the Heritage Overlay on their land, and one was in support of the Amendment.

Opposition from submitters relates to the composition of the heritage precincts, social and economic impacts of including places in the Heritage Overlay, and the extent of Barnett Street south residential precinct.

Having considered the written submissions along with those made to it at the Hearing, the Panel generally supports the Amendment subject to a number of recommendations. In providing this support, the Panel has accepted the evidence provided by Mr Butler on behalf of Melbourne City Council in relation to four of the precincts subject to submissions (Kensington, Pridham Street north, Parsons Street west, and Barnett Street north precincts). The Panel believes that the precincts meet the threshold requirements for inclusion in the Heritage Overlay because they represent cohesive areas of typical working class housing with a sufficient number, scale and site coverage of contributory buildings.

This is also the case in relation to Barnett Street south precinct, except for 1 Robertson Street. The Panel considers that as a non-contributory building on the edge of the precinct, this building should be excluded from the Amendment.

In relation to 33 Eastwood Street, the Panel agrees with Mr Butler that the grading of the house should be amended to reflect its condition as a non-contributory building, and in relation to the Pridham Street north precinct, a number of mapping errors were identified, and the Panel recommends correcting these.

(ii) Recommendation

Based on the reasons set out in this Report, the Panel recommends:

Melbourne Planning Scheme Amendment C215 should be adopted as exhibited subject to the following modifications:

1. Remove land identified as 1 Robertson Street from HO1163.
2. Remove 33 Eastwood Street (front house) from the Heritage Places Inventory.
3. In relation to HO1168 Pridham Street north precinct:
 - a) Amend Map 4HO to exclude 14 Pridham Street, Kensington from the Overlay, and
 - b) Amend Map 4HO to include the various land parcels identified as 1 -31, 16-30 Pridham Street Kensington in the Overlay.

1 Introduction

Melbourne Planning Scheme Amendment C215 (the Amendment) was prepared by the Melbourne City Council (the Council) as Planning Authority. The Amendment implements the recommendations of two recent heritage reviews undertaken by Graeme Butler and Associates titled The Kensington Heritage Review 2013 and the Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013. As exhibited, the Amendment proposes to:

- Create new Heritage Places (precincts and individual places)
- Transfer a number of existing Heritage Places (precincts and individual places) into new Heritage Places (precincts) and allocate new reference numbers
- Amend building gradings and streetscapes of some existing Heritage Places
- Remove one existing Heritage Place (individual place) from the Heritage Overlay
- Amend Clause 22.05 (Heritage Places Outside the Capital City Zone Policy) to ensure that the Review of Heritage Buildings in Kensington 2013, and the Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013, is considered when making decisions relating to any of the individual places and precincts which are the subject of the Amendment
- Amend the Schedule to Clause 43.01 (Heritage Overlay) to include new Heritage Places and amend the Heritage Overlay reference number of some existing Heritage Places
- Replace Schedule Clause 81.01 Incorporated Document Heritage Places Inventory July 2008 with the document Heritage Places Inventory 2013 so that the individual building gradings and streetscape gradings proposed in the Reviews are considered when making decisions relating to any of the places which are the subject of the Amendment
- Insert a new incorporated document into the Schedule to Clause 81.01 titled Kensington Heritage Review 2013 Statements of Significance
- Amend Planning Scheme Map 4HO to include new Heritage Places, amend references to existing Heritage Places, and delete one Heritage Place.

The Amendment applies to land in the Kensington area as detailed in Figure 1.

The Amendment was authorised by the Department of Transport, Planning and Local Infrastructure (DTPLI) on 16 July 2013.

The Amendment was placed on public exhibition between 31 October and 8 December 2013, with one supporting submission and 11 opposing submissions received. The opposing submissions were received from:

- Marilyn and Geoffrey Browning
- Robyn Adair – Holzoder
- Michael Carroll and Franca Alessi
- Frank and Gabriella Sinopoli
- Luciano Sinopoli
- Bruce Fenney
- Brian and Lesley Ervin
- George Duvcevski
- John and Karen Barker
- Peter Williams and Natalie Bate
- Chris Stribley.

The key issues raised can be summarised as:

- Composition of precincts
- Extent of Barnett Street south residential precinct
- Social and economic impacts of including places in the Heritage Overlay.

At its meeting of 6 May 2014, Council resolved to refer the submissions to a Panel. As a result, a Panel to consider the Amendment was appointed under delegation by the Minister for Planning on 2 June 2014 and comprised Suzanne Barker (Chair) and Renate Howe.

A Directions Hearing was held in relation to the Amendment on 13 June 2014. Following the Directions Hearing, the Panel undertook an inspection of the subject site and its surrounds.

The Panel then met in the offices of Planning Panels Victoria on 28 July 2014 to hear submissions in respect of the Amendment. Those in attendance at the Panel Hearing are listed in Table 1.

2 The proposal

2.1 Background to the proposal

On 13 December 2007 the Local Government Act 1989 was amended to alter the boundary between the City of Melbourne and the City of Moonee Valley, with the boundary change taking effect on 1 July 2008. The change brought all of the suburbs of Kensington and North Melbourne within the City of Melbourne, which had previously been divided between the two local government areas along Macaulay Road and Melrose Street.

Amendment C134 resulted in a policy neutral transfer of Moonee Valley's existing planning controls into the Melbourne Planning Scheme. All graded buildings were added to the Heritage Places Inventory Incorporated Document, and the gradings were taken from the mid 1980's heritage conservation studies for those areas.

Amendment C215 implements the Kensington Heritage Review which was undertaken as an action and initiative of the City of Melbourne's Annual Plan 2012-2013:

Complete a review of heritage in Kensington and request ministerial approval to exhibit a Planning Scheme Amendment.

Graeme Butler and Associates was engaged to assess approximately 570 places in Kensington to determine if heritage protection under the Planning Scheme was warranted. The Heritage Review built on the 1985 Flemington/Kensington Conservation Study which had formed the basis of heritage protection in the City of Melbourne, and a 1998 review carried out by Andrew Ward for the City of Moonee Valley (City of Moonee Valley Heritage Study 1998).

2.2 The Amendment

The Amendment seeks to implement the findings of the Heritage Review by making the following changes to the Schedule to the Heritage Overlay (HO) and associated maps:

2.2.1 Precincts

The Amendment applies the Heritage Overlay over seven new Heritage Places (precincts):

- Barnett Street north residential precinct (HO1162)
- Lambeth Street streetscape (HO1165)
- Parsons Street south streetscape (HO1166)
- Parsons Street west precinct (HO1167)
- Pridham Street north residential street precinct (HO1168)
- Rankins Road north streetscape (HO1169)
- William Adam's investment house streetscape (HO1171).

The Amendment transfers a number of existing Heritage Places (precincts and individual places) into new Heritage Places (precincts) including:

- Barnett Street south residential precinct (HO1163)
- Kensington railway station commercial and residential precinct (HO1164)
- Smith Street Victorian era residential streetscape (HO1170).

2.2.2 Individual places

The Amendment proposes to include five individual Heritage Places within the Schedule to the Heritage Overlay and remove one individual Heritage Place from the Scheme.

All new Heritage Overlays listed in the Schedule to Clause 43.01 have external paint controls.

2.2.3 Local Policy

With regard to policy, the Amendment proposes to:

- Amend Clause 22.05 (Heritage Places Outside the Capital City Zone Policy) to ensure that the Review of Heritage Buildings in Kensington 2013, Graeme Butler and the Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013, Graeme Butler, are considered when making decisions relating to any of the places and precincts which are the subject of this Amendment.

2.2.4 Incorporated documents

With regard to incorporated documents, the Amendment proposes to:

- Include the 'Kensington Heritage Review 2013 Statements of Significance' as an incorporated document in the Schedule to Clause 81.01, so that these statements are considered when making decisions relating to individually significant buildings and to the ten precincts
- Replace the 'Heritage Places Inventory July 2008' with a new 'Heritage Places Inventory' to include the gradings derived by the Heritage Review
- Update the Schedule to Clause 81.01 to include the updated 'Heritage Places Inventory'.

2.3 Issues dealt with in this report

The Panel considered all written submissions, as well as submissions presented to it during the Hearing. In addressing the issues raised in those submissions, the Panel has been assisted by the information provided to it as well as its observations from inspections of specific sites.

This report deals with the issues under the following headings:

- Strategic Planning Context
- The Heritage Precincts.

3 Strategic Planning Context

Council provided a response to the Strategic Assessment Guidelines, derived from the Explanatory Report.

The Panel has reviewed the policy context of the Amendment and has made a brief appraisal of the relevant zone and overlay controls and other relevant planning strategies.

3.1 Policy framework

3.1.1 State Planning Policy Framework

The Amendment is supported by Clause 15.03 'Heritage' in the SPPF by ensuring the conservation of places that have historical significance.

The Panel notes the following relevant strategies:

- Identify, assess and document places of natural and cultural heritage significance as a basis for their inclusion in the planning scheme.
- Provide for the protection of natural heritage sites and man-made resources and the maintenance of ecological processes and biological diversity.
- Provide for the conservation and enhancement of those places which are of, aesthetic, archaeological, architectural, cultural, scientific, or social significance, or otherwise of special cultural value.
- Encourage appropriate development that respects places with identified heritage values and creates a worthy legacy for future generations.
- Retain those elements that contribute to the importance of the heritage place.
- Encourage the conservation and restoration of contributory elements.
- Ensure an appropriate setting and context for heritage places is maintained or enhanced.
- Support adaptive reuse of heritage buildings whose use has become redundant.

3.1.2 Plan Melbourne

The Amendment is supported by Plan Melbourne. Direction 4.7 of Plan Melbourne seeks to respect our heritage as we build for the future. Initiative 4.7.1 - value heritage when managing growth and change - is of further note.

3.1.3 Local Planning Policy Framework

The Amendment is supported by Clause 21.06 Built Environment and Heritage. This clause refers to the importance of Melbourne's heritage:

Melbourne's character is defined by its distinctive urban structure, historic street pattern, boulevards and parks, heritage precincts, and individually significant heritage buildings. Heritage buildings, precincts and streetscapes are a large part of Melbourne's attraction and the conservation of identified heritage places from the impact of development is crucial.

Clause 21.06-2 relates to heritage, and has the following objective and strategies:

- Objective 1 - To conserve and enhance places and precincts of identified cultural heritage significance.
 - Strategy 1.1 - Conserve, protect and enhance the fabric of identified heritage places and precincts.
 - Strategy 1.2 - Support the restoration of heritage buildings and places.
 - Strategy 1.3 - Maintain the visual prominence of heritage buildings and landmarks.
 - Strategy 1.4 - In heritage precincts protect heritage buildings, subdivision patterns, boulevards and public open space.
 - Strategy 1.5 - Protect the significant landscape and cultural heritage features of the City's parks, gardens, waterways and other open spaces.
 - Strategy 1.6 - Within heritage precincts and from adjoining areas protect buildings, streetscapes and precincts of cultural heritage significance from the visual intrusion of new built form.
 - Strategy 1.7 - Protect the scale and visual prominence of important heritage buildings, landmarks and heritage places, including the Shrine of Remembrance and the World Heritage Listed Royal Exhibition Building and Carlton Gardens.
 - Strategy 1.8 - Maintain cultural heritage character as a key distinctive feature of the City and ensure new development does not damage this character.

3.1.4 Zones

The majority of the land subject to the Amendment is zoned General Residential Zone Schedule 1 except for one parcel which is zoned Mixed Use Zone (fronting Racecourse Road), and two parcels zoned Industrial 3 Zone (fronting Macaulay Road).

3.1.5 Overlays

Clause 43.01 Heritage Overlay has the following purposes:

- ...
- To conserve and enhance heritage places of natural or cultural significance.
- To conserve and enhance those elements which contribute to the significance of heritage places.
- To ensure that development does not adversely affect the significance of heritage places.
- To conserve specifically identified heritage places by allowing a use that would otherwise be prohibited if this will demonstrably assist with the conservation of the significance of the heritage place.

3.2 Ministerial Directions and Practice Notes

Council's Explanatory Report states that the Amendment is consistent with the Ministerial Direction on the Form and Content of Planning Schemes, and complies with Ministerial Direction No 9 – Metropolitan Strategy. Direction 5.4 – Protect heritage places and values is specifically mentioned, and that the Amendment complies with Ministerial Direction No 11-Strategic Assessment of Amendments.

3.2.1 Planning Practice Note – Applying the Heritage Overlay, revised September 2012

The Planning Practice Note 'Applying the Heritage Overlay, Revised September 2012', provides guidance regarding the criteria to be used when assessing places for consideration of the Heritage Overlay in local planning schemes.

The Practice Note requires that the heritage process leading to the identification of the place needs to clearly justify the significance of the place as a basis for its inclusion in the Heritage Overlay. The documentation for each place must include a statement of significance that clearly establishes the importance of the place and addresses specific heritage criteria. The Practice Note lists criteria A to H, which have been generally adopted by heritage jurisdictions throughout Australia and should be used in preparing a heritage study. The Practice Note does state however that the adoption of the criteria does not diminish previous heritage assessment work undertaken before 2012 which have used older versions of criteria.

In terms of threshold and gradings, the Practice Note advises that thresholds to be applied should be either 'State significance' or 'Local significance'. 'Local significance' includes those places that are important to a particular community or locality. The Practice Note specifically advises that letter gradings (A, B and C for example) should not be used.

The Practice Note advises that in order to apply a threshold, some comparative analysis will be required to substantiate the significance of each place. The comparative analysis should draw on other similar places within the study area, including those that have previously been included in a heritage register or overlay. Places identified to be of potential State significance should undergo limited analysis on a broader (State wide) comparative basis.

3.3 Other strategies

The City of Melbourne Heritage Strategy 2013 and Thematic History – A History of the City of Melbourne's Urban Environment 2012 provide a broad context for the Panel in considering this Amendment however they are not listed as reference documents in the Planning Scheme.

3.3.1 The City of Melbourne Heritage Strategy 2013

The City of Melbourne prepared the Heritage Strategy 2013, which provides a context to the Council's priorities with regard to the strategic protection and management of heritage within the municipality.

Under the theme 'Knowing', the Strategy identifies the action 'Investigate, identify, assess and document gaps in the record of items and places of cultural and/or natural heritage significance.'

Under the theme 'Protecting', the Strategy identifies the action 'Review the heritage controls in the residential zones of the city, targeting resolution of gaps and inconsistencies in the existing controls.'

3.3.2 Thematic History – A History of the City of Melbourne’s Urban Environment (Context, 2012)

A thematic environmental history was undertaken in 2011 and adopted by Council in 2012. It is not included as a reference document in the Planning Scheme. However it provides the Panel with an overview of the main themes recently identified. As described in the Preface (page 5):

The role of the Thematic History is not to provide a comprehensive account of the social and economic history of the municipality. It is intended to be a concise document that takes a broad brush approach, setting out the key themes that have influenced the historical development of a municipality and helping to explain how and why the built and human-influenced environments of that municipality look as they do today. A thematic environmental history is an essential part in a municipal heritage study, helping ensure that the places that reflect and represent the historical development of the municipality are recognised.

Of relevance for the Panel, the document broadly identifies the key historical themes which have influenced the development of Kensington in the context of Melbourne’s development, including the suburb’s development as a key manufacturing area, and the subdivision of land and development of modest housing stock for workers over a number of decades.

3.4 Strategic Assessment

The Panel concludes that the Amendment is supported by, and implements, the relevant sections of the State and Local Planning Policy Framework.

The merits of the inclusion of individual buildings and precincts within the Heritage Overlay are discussed in the next chapter of this report.

4 The Heritage Precincts

4.1 The issues

The issues relate to:

- The composition of precincts and the application of the Heritage Overlay to properties to protect buildings within the precinct. More specifically:
 - Including ungraded buildings within nominated heritage precincts and
 - The identification of individual buildings as significant within nominated heritage precincts.
- The social and economic impacts of including places in the Heritage Overlay
- External paint controls, and
- In the case of Barnett Street south residential precinct, the boundary of the precinct.

4.2 Barnett Street north residential precinct (HO1162)

One submission (submission 7) was received in relation to Barnett Street north residential precinct.

The Statement of Significance for the Barnett Street north residential precinct (in the exhibited citation in the Incorporated Document Kensington Heritage Review Statements of Significance, 2013) described the place as follows:

What is significant?

The Barnett Street north residential sub-precinct includes:

The Victorian period masonry and timber, all generally taking on the characteristics of the Victorian-era subdivision, with similar building set-back and range of materials.

The precinct includes:

- Mainly single-fronted, single-storey Victorian period brick and timber clad houses with front verandahs, hipped roofs and chimneys;
- Masonry rows and close siting of weatherboard examples, built close to the street;
- Victorian period masonry core comprised of 6-10, 23-27 creates the character of this precinct;
- Fences are typically replaced, and iron verandah ornament gone or replaced.

How is it significant?

The Barnett Street north residential precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

The Barnett Street north residential precinct is significant;

Historically, as representing well the typical 19th century housing type of the Kensington residential area and because it includes some of the few masonry house rows in Kensington; also most houses in this part of Barnett Street were leased out (some by flour miller Thomas Gillespie), underscoring the working class character of the area that extended well into the 20th century (Criterion A);

Aesthetically, for the contribution of the well-preserved Victorian-era masonry rows and their visual counterpoint to the more modest but typical timber houses adjoining and opposite (Criterion E).

4.2.1 Evidence and submissions

The submission relates to 22 Barnett Street:

- Building Grading – D
- Streetscape Grading – 3

Submitter 7 questioned the need to obtain planning permission under the Heritage Overlay to paint the exterior of the building. The submission stated that this should be considered routine maintenance.

Council responded by stating that the building is a contributory building within the precinct and planning permission is only required if the colour of the building was changed, and not if the existing colours are used.

4.2.2 Discussion and Conclusion

The Panel is satisfied that external paint controls are warranted to facilitate the continued cohesive development of the precinct, and should apply to this building as a contributory part of the precinct.

The Panel concludes that existing provisions provide adequately for exemptions for routine maintenance such as external painting in colours which match existing conditions.

4.3 Barnett Street south residential precinct (HO1163) - part former Barnett Street Urban Conservation Area

Two submissions (submissions 2 and 12) were received in relation to Barnett Street south residential precinct.

The Statement of Significance for the Barnett Street south residential precinct (in the exhibited citation in the Incorporated Document Kensington Heritage Review Statements of Significance, 2013) described the place as follows:

What is significant?

The Barnett Street south residential precinct includes:

The Victorian period timber and brick cottages with some Edwardian period examples, all generally taking on the characteristics of the Victorian-era subdivision, building set-back and range of materials.

On the east side of the street:

- Single-fronted, single-storey Victorian period timber houses with front verandahs, hipped roofs and chimneys;
- Close siting, built close to the street;
- Well-preserved examples such as 65, 73-77 and 81-91 Barnett Street.

On the west side:

- A mixture of double and single fronted timber Edwardian houses, such as 58-62 Barnett Street;
- Strong Victorian period masonry core comprised of 68-88 dominate the character of this precinct;
- A row of elevated Victorian period timber cottages similar to those opposite, each with fair integrity.

Fences are typically replaced, some roofs reclad and iron verandah ornament gone or replaced. Stone pitched right-of-ways are contributory.

How is it significant?

The Barnett Street south residential sub-precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

The Barnett Street south residential sub-precinct is significant:

Historically, as representing well the typical 19th century housing type of the Kensington residential area and because it includes one of the few long masonry house rows (on the west side) in Kensington, in this case associated with the wealthy brewer RK Montgomerie; also most houses in this part of Barnett Street were leased out, underscoring the working class character of the area that extended well into the 20th (Criterion A);

Aesthetically, for the contribution of the above well-preserved Victorian-era masonry row and its visual interaction with and counterpoint to the more modest timber houses adjoining and opposite (Criterion E).

4.3.1 29-44 Barnett Street, Kensington

Submission 12 relates to various buildings:

- 29 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 32 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 33 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 34 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 35 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 36 Barnett Street - Building Grading – D, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 37-39 Barnett Street - Building Grading – Ungraded, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 40 Barnett Street - Building Grading – Ungraded, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 42 Barnett Street - Building Grading – Ungraded, Streetscape Grading – 3
- 44 Barnett Street - Building Grading – Ungraded, Streetscape Grading – 3

(i) Evidence and submissions

At the Hearing Mr Stribley spoke to his submission (Submission 12) objecting to the inclusion of the properties set out above in the Barnett Street south residential precinct. He submitted that the precinct boundary is proposed to be extended too far to the north and the affected properties do not meet the threshold of significance for inclusion in HO1163. The overall percentage of houses meeting the criteria for contributory buildings was well below the overall 85% estimated by Mr Butler for the area as a whole and would be further reduced following the issue of a demolition permit for one of the properties.

Mr Stribley submitted an aerial view of 35-39 Barnett Street (Hearing Document 5) indicating properties with off-street parking provision and building extensions, which in his view compromised their heritage contribution.

It was Mr Stribley's submission that his home at 35 Barnett Street should not be included in the precinct given the significant alterations to the veranda, roof and windows. He noted that the house had not been included in the Schedule of Significant Places in the Flemington and Kensington Conservation Study (1985) and that this study had assigned D grades (the lowest grade) to properties in this section of Barnett Street.

In his evidence, Mr Butler emphasised that the HO1163 precinct boundary had been extended to include the northern section of Barnett Street for its contribution to the historic significance of this area of Kensington. It was a relatively intact area of Victorian working class housing. In relation to the D grades referred to by Mr Stribley, Mr Butler emphasised that the grading system used in the 1985 Conservation Study did not adequately reflect the historic environment.

Mr Butler's evidence to the Panel included heritage assessments of the eleven remaining properties identified in Submission 12 of which he judged seven as contributory. His overall estimate was that 64% of the proposed northern extension properties were contributory to the Heritage Overlay and that even on Mr Stribley's assessment, over half were contributory. Mr Butler's opinion was that the aerial view of nos 35-39 submitted by Mr Stribley did not demonstrate fragmentation in this area of Barnett Street but rather reinforced the consistency of the built form.

Mr Butler submitted that the northern boundary extension of HO1163 should be considered in the context of the contiguous streetscapes of the cross streets - Smith and Robertson Streets. The north boundary is clearly defined by contributory places at numbers 29 and 32 Barnett Street on the corner of Smith Street. He emphasised that fragmenting the block by removing the places included in Mr Stribley's submission would pose difficulties for heritage management.

In relation to the house at 35 Barnett Street, Mr Butler assessed the alterations to the property outlined in Submission 12 as reversible and that viewed from the street the house was in "near to original condition" and recognisably of the Victorian era. He concluded that 35 Barnett Street was contributory to the heritage significance of the proposed northern boundary extension to the Barnett Street south residential precinct (HO1163).

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

On inspection the Panel found that the proposed northern boundary extension area had a greater variety of housing than the southern area of the precinct but that overall the area reflected the historical significance of Victorian and Edwardian era modest timber working class housing in the architectural and social development of this area of Kensington. Infill housing of a later period is of a similar scale in terms of height and street frontage ensuring this section of Barnett Street retains much of its original character and historical significance to meet criteria for A and E assessments.

The Panel notes the concerns of the Panel in Campaspe Amendment C50 (paragraph 5.6) that the presence of a considerable number of non-contributory places, especially at the borders, can detract from any sense of a precinct. However, in this case it is the Panel's view that the number, scale and site coverage of non-contributory buildings does not detract from the heritage significance of the precinct as a cohesive area of typical working class housing.

The Panel therefore supports the inclusion of 29-39 and 32 - 44 Barnett Street to the Barnett Street south residential area Heritage Overlay. The Panel agrees with the evidence of Mr Butler that alterations to 35 Barnett Street do not detract from the contribution of this house to the precinct as an example of Victorian weatherboard working class housing built in this area of Kensington, and accept his assessment that other buildings (numbers 29 to 36) in the precinct are contributory.

The Panel finds that the northern extension contributes to the heritage significance of the south Barnett Street residential precinct historically (Criterion A) and aesthetically (Criterion E) as an area of predominantly narrow-fronted timber working class housing built in this area of Kensington in the Victorian period.

In conclusion, the Panel supports the inclusion of the various parcels identified as 29-39 and 32 - 44 Barnett Street in the Heritage Overlay (HO1163 Barnett Street south residential precinct) as exhibited.

4.3.2 1 Robertson Street

Submission 2 relates to 1 Robertson Street:

- Building Grading – Ungraded
- Streetscape Grading – Ungraded

(i) Evidence and submissions

Submitter 2 opposed the inclusion of 1 Robertson Street in the Barnett Street south residential precinct (HO1163). The owners submitted that 'this property is not a heritage building but is a 1970s plus red brick home with a basic cement tiled roof. The house is in average condition and in the future we may elect to rebuild the home or substantially renovate and extend.'

In his evidence, Mr Butler acknowledged that the building had been identified as non-contributory, but it is located within the proposed Barnett Street south HO1163 precinct.

The building is on the edge of the proposed Heritage Overlay and a lane way separates the building from non-heritage areas. Mr Butler submitted that it was desirable to include this non-contributory building in the Heritage Overlay as 'development on this site should be controlled to allow conservation and enhancement of the proposed Heritage Overlay area'.

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

Inspection confirmed that the house at 1 Robertson Street was contiguous with contributory places in the Heritage Overlay and although built in red brick in the 1970s, it is of a similar scale to the predominant single story Victorian era and Edwardian weatherboard housing. The place is clearly a non-contributory building and has been included in the Heritage Overlay to control development on the site and to take advantage of the adjoining right-of-way as a neat boundary between HO1163 and non-heritage housing on the western side of the right-of-way.

The Panel was not convinced that the place should be included in the Heritage Overlay for these reasons. The small site offers limited opportunity for a redevelopment that would significantly compromise the heritage significance of the Heritage Overlay. In relation to the boundary issue, while extension to the right-of-way seems appropriate for mapping purposes, the Panel did not consider the inclusion of a non-contributory building for this reason was either persuasive or necessary to implement the heritage purpose of HO1163. The removal of a non-contributory building, the last place on the western border of the precinct, will not adversely impact on the heritage significance of the Overlay.

The Panel concludes that the 1 Robertson Street is not contributory to the heritage significance of HO1163 and should be removed from the Amendment.

(iii) Recommendation

The Panel recommends:

- 1. Remove land identified as 1 Robertson Street from HO1163.

4.4 Parsons Street west precinct (HO1167)

Three submissions (9, 10, and 11) were received in relation to the Parsons Street west precinct (HO1167).

The Statement of Significance for the Parsons Street west precinct (in the exhibited citation in the Incorporated Document Kensington Heritage Review Statements of Significance, 2013) described the place as follows:

What is significant?

The Parsons Street west precinct, built up from c1900 to the 1930s includes:

- Streetscapes and individual examples of painted weatherboard Edwardian-era houses with ornate cast-iron verandah detailing, half-timbering and picturesque hipped and gabled roof forms;*
- Significant pair of stuccoed inter-war houses in the Spanish style which relate in scale and form to adjoining houses;*
- Commercial stable in red brick;*

- Generally one storey scale, with pitched roof forms, and detached siting.

How is it significant?

Parsons Street west precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Parsons Street west precinct is significant:

Historically, as a representation of two key periods of housing development within the locality, Edwardian-era and inter-war; also

For the juxtaposition of a large commercial stable building in the precinct, set close to houses, as indicative of the mix of uses in residential areas and, as well, illustrating key theme in the area's history which included horse related industry including carriers and horse training (Criterion A); and

Aesthetically, as good examples of architectural form, detailing and styling from two main eras of the area's housing development (Criterion E).

4.4.1 35 Eastwood Street

Submission 9 relates to 35 Eastwood Street:

- Building Grading – D
- Streetscape Grading – 2

(i) Evidence and submissions

Submission 9 included that the house is isolated and differs from other homes in the proposed Parsons Street west precinct; the house is not in Parsons Street and was beyond repair. A copy of a demolition permit granted by the Melbourne City Council in November 2013 was included in the owner's submission. The Future Melbourne Committee as a consequence resolved to remove the property from the Amendment.

However, it was Mr Butler's evidence that 35 Eastwood Street was an Edwardian-era house that made an important contribution as an example of one of the key development eras in the East Kensington project area and the proposed HO1167. Also contributory to its significance was the connection of the house historically to the stable at the rear of 33 Eastwood Street, once part of the yard of no. 35. Mr Butler concluded 'that the house and its former stable are key elements in both the proposed Kensington East and Parsons Street areas and should remain in the Heritage Overlay'.

At the hearing, Mr O'Farrell maintained that it was the Planning Authority's position to remove the property from the Amendment because of the demolition permit, however, in light of Mr Butler's evidence, stated that Council sought guidance from the Panel in relation to this matter.

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

On inspection the Panel observed that the house was not in disrepair awaiting demolition but had been restored to a high standard. This was confirmed by Mr Butler at the Hearing.

The Panel does not consider that the issue of a demolition permit is reason to exclude the property from the Heritage Overlay area. The application of the Heritage Overlay should be based on heritage significance.

As a restored Edwardian building, representative of a key period of housing development within the locality (Criterion A), along with the building's association with the stable at 33 Eastwood Street (Criterion E), the Panel concluded that the place should remain in the proposed Heritage Overlay area, HO1167 Parson Street west precinct.

In conclusion, the Panel supports the inclusion of the land identified as 35 Eastwood Street in the Heritage Overlay (HO1167 Parsons Street west precinct) as exhibited.

4.4.2 33 Eastwood Street

The submission relates to 33 Eastwood Street:

- Building Grading – D
- Streetscape Grading – 2

(i) Evidence and submissions

Submitter 11 supports the proposed heritage protection of the stables at the rear of the property. However, the submission objected to the proposed inclusion of the house at the front of the property in the Heritage Overlay. The grounds of objection were that the house was built in the late 1940s and did not fit the focus of the Parsons Street West precinct on the Edwardian and inter-war era. As well, the house is in a very poor state of repair.

At the Hearing, Mr Butler informed the Panel that further research and inspection had confirmed that the owner's submission was correct and that the house dated from the late 1940s. Mr Butler submitted that 'the late date of the house means that it does not represent a key era of growth and its altered state means that it does not have aesthetic value as a well-preserved example of the inter-war period.'

However, the contributory stable on the same site, which is included in the Statement of Significance for the Parsons Street west precinct, remains significant and should be included in the Heritage Overlay. This substantial stable building illustrates a key theme identified in the Statement of Significance that the area's history included horse related industry such as carriers and horse training (Criterion A).

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

The Panel agrees with Mr Butler's evidence that the house at 33 Eastwood Street is not contributory to the proposed Heritage Overlay area and that the grading should therefore be amended to reflect this. The brick stable however on the same land is contributory and should be included in HO1167.

(iii) Recommendation

The Panel recommends:

- 2. Remove 33 Eastwood Street (front house) from the Heritage Places Inventory.

4.4.3 6 Parsons Street

Submission 10 relates to 6 Parsons Street:

- Building Grading – C
- Streetscape Grading – 2

(i) Evidence and submissions

Submission 10 opposed the inclusion of 6 Parsons Street in the Heritage Overlay. The place is one of a pair of detached houses and garages known as Waddington's houses. Mr Butler described them as "an inter-war hybrid of Edwardian-era Mediterranean and Spanish styles" that are significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

The inclusion of 6 Parsons Street in HO1167 was strongly opposed by the owners on the basis that the house needed major internal and external repairs and that the proposed inclusion of the house in the Heritage Overlay was causing anxiety and health concerns for the residents. Concern was expressed in relation to the economic impact that inclusion in the Heritage Overlay could have on the ability to sell and maintain the property.

(ii) Discussion

In relation to the issue of how social and economic impacts should be considered at the Amendment stage, both the Melbourne Amendment C207 Arden-Macaulay Heritage Review Panel and Melbourne Amendment C196 City North Heritage Review Panel held the view that social and economic matters which must be considered at the Amendment stage (consistent with the amended Planning and Environment Act 1987, Section 12(2)) are those of a community-wide nature rather than of a personal kind. This Panel agrees with this approach to the consideration of social and economic impacts raised in submissions.

The Panel notes Council's explanatory report considered the broad community nature of these issues when considering relevant social and economic effects of the Amendment. The explanatory report stated:

The Amendment will have positive social effects by recognising building fabric that represents the layers of development in the Kensington area. Heritage places also add character, appeal and interest to our city. Respect for our cultural heritage involves retaining and managing places that have importance to us as the community. The inclusion of new places in the Heritage Overlay will ensure the conservation of Melbourne's history for present and future generations.

Whilst acknowledging the individual circumstances expressed in the submission, the Panel notes that the issues expressed in the submission are of a personal nature, and no heritage considerations to support removal of the place from the Heritage Overlay have been raised. The Panel is of the view that the listing of the building through this Amendment should be considered in terms of its heritage significance.

On inspection the Panel found the house to be a well-preserved Spanish Mission style dwelling representative of inter-war development in the Parsons Street west precinct. It is important as one of a pair that contributes to a cohesive inter-war section of the precinct.

The Panel recommends that 6 Parsons Street should remain within the proposed Heritage Overlay area. Along with its twin, the place contributes to a row of well-maintained inter-war houses and strengthens the rather disparate range of historical themes in the Parsons Street west precinct (HO1167).

In conclusion, the Panel supports the inclusion of the land identified as 6 Parsons Street in the Heritage Overlay (HO1167 Parsons Street west precinct) as exhibited.

4.5 Pridham Street north precinct (HO1168)

Two submissions (submissions 4 and 5) were received in relation to Pridham Street north precinct.

The Statement of Significance for the Pridham Street north precinct (in the exhibited citation in the Incorporated Document Kensington Heritage Review Statements of Significance, 2013) described the place as follows:

What is significant?

The Pridham Street north residential streetscape was built up substantially in the Victorian & Edwardian-eras and includes both contributory and significant residential buildings, with:

- Ornamental stucco detailing mainly derived from Italian Renaissance sources;
- Coloured decorative brickwork;
- Window groupings as a small percentage of the façade wall area;
- Weatherboard and some masonry construction;
- Verandahed forms on street elevations;
- Chimneys;
- One storey scale;
- Mainly pitched but some parapeted rooflines, with some slate but mainly corrugated iron cladding;
- Siting on or close to the street.

How is it significant?

The Pridham Street north residential streetscape is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Pridham Street north residential streetscape is significant:

Historically, as an early residential streetscape in the Kensington east area that extends southward from the significant Racecourse Road commercial precinct established there on a major route to the hinterland during Kensington's late Victorian boom-era. The streetscape includes some individually notable detailing

but is mainly made up of contributory Victorian and Edwardian-era houses (Criterion A); and Aesthetically for the well-preserved examples of adapted Italian Renaissance Revival design and detailed ornamentation of the residential places. The streetscape is contributory to the overall Kensington heritage character and complements the nearby Racecourse Road and Rankins Road heritage commercial precincts (Criterion E).

4.5.1 Mapping

(i) Evidence and submissions

At the hearing, Mr Butler commented on the mapping of the precinct edge and noted that 14 Pridham Street had been included in HO1168 which in his view was not necessary. Council advised that this was a mapping error, and that the precinct should begin at 16 Pridham Street.

(ii) Discussion

In relation to the mapping error, the Panel supports the boundary change to exclude 14 Pridham Street from the precinct as a non-contributory building on the edge of the Heritage Overlay.

The Panel has also noticed that the exhibited Map 4 of the Heritage Overlay does not refer to HO1168, but instead shows this area included as part of HO1169. Rankins Road north streetscape (HO1169) is described in the Statement of Significance as 10 - 34 Rankins Road. The Panel presumes that this is a mapping error and that HO1169 should refer to the properties fronting Rankins Road only, with the balance of the precinct labelled as HO1168. The Panel recommends updating the maps to correct this error.

(iii) Recommendation

The Panel recommends:

- 3. In relation to HO1168 Pridham Street north precinct:
 - a) Amend Map 4HO to exclude 14 Pridham Street, Kensington from the Overlay, and
 - b) Amend Map 4HO to include the various land parcels identified as 1 -31, 16-30 Pridham Street Kensington in the Overlay.

4.5.2 16 and 18 Pridham Street

Submission 5 relates to 16 Pridham Street:

- Building Grading – D
- Streetscape Grading - 3

Submission 4 relates to 18 Pridham Street:

- Building Grading – D
- Streetscape Grading – 3

(i) Evidence and submissions

Submitters 4 and 5 states that their respective properties have been substantially altered over the years and do therefore not have significant heritage value. Alterations include removal of chimneys, alterations to windows, painting and rendering of exterior walls, removal of verandah fretwork, replacement of front doors, and replacement of front fences. Furthermore, the submitters contend that because their properties lie at the edge of the precinct, that the precinct should commence at 20 Pridham Street instead.

In evidence, Mr Butler noted that the buildings, although altered, are a pair of contributory brick dwellings from the significant period of the area's development, which share the contributory characteristics outlined in the Statement of Significance. He was of the view that, although altered, the pair provides a recognisable contributory character to this part of the precinct, and should be included in the precinct. He further stated:

The proposed Pridham Street north Heritage Overlay is justified on heritage criteria that recognise the role of representation of historical themes in the Heritage Overlay.

Mr Butler's evidence noted that the buildings were identified in the original 1985 Study of Flemington and Kensington.

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

In relation to 16 and 18 Pridham Street, the Panel does not support their exclusion from the precinct. Despite the altered condition of the buildings, the Panel agrees with Mr Butler that they contribute to the precinct because of their representativeness of the precinct's historical development. Furthermore, consistent with local policy, the D grading is warranted as the buildings are 'reasonably intact' examples within a street which 'retains much of its original character'. Despite being on the edge of the precinct, the Panel is of the view that as contributory buildings, 16 and 18 Pridham Street should remain in the precinct.

In conclusion, the Panel supports the inclusion of the land identified as 16 and 18 Pridham Street in the Heritage Overlay (HO1168 Pridham Street north precinct) as exhibited.

4.6 Kensington precinct (HO9)

Three submissions (submissions 1, 3 and 6) were received in relation to the extension of the Kensington precinct.

The Statement of Significance for the Kensington precinct (in the exhibited citation in the Heritage Review) described the place as follows:

What is significant?

Contributory elements in the Heritage Overlay Area include (but not exclusively):

Mainly detached Victorian-era and Edwardian era houses, having typically:

- Expressed pitched gabled or hipped roofs;
- One storey wall heights but with some isolated landmark 2 storey buildings;
- weatherboard with some face brick (red, dichrome and polychrome), bluestone or stucco walls;
- corrugated iron roof cladding, with some slate and unglazed Marseilles pattern terra-cotta tiles;
- Chimneys of either stucco finish (with moulded caps) or of face matching brickwork with corbelled capping courses;
- Post-supported verandah elements facing the street, with cast-iron (typically mid to late Victorian-era) or timber detailing (typically Edwardian-era);
- Less than 40% of the street wall face comprised with openings such as windows and doors; and
- Front gardens, originally bordered by typically timber picket front fences of around 1m height.

Contributory elements also include:

- ...
- Well preserved buildings from the pre Second War era;
- Staged subdivision patterns that draw from Government survey;
- ... and individually significant places of all eras.

How is it significant?

Kensington Residential Heritage Precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to the City of Melbourne and Metropolitan Melbourne.

Why is it significant?

Kensington Residential Heritage Precinct is significant:

- Historically, as an area of well-preserved but modest, mainly Victorian and Edwardian-era worker housing that is closely aligned with nearby industries and services such as the flour mills and railways, and largely built with timber-framed weatherboard and corrugated iron clad construction;

- Historically and aesthetically, for the juxtapositioning of these housing groups against the ascalar backdrop of the large industrial developments in which house holders worked, best exemplified by the vista which takes in the Edwardian period house rows of Eastwood Street in their progress towards the huge Younghusband and Row stores which terminate the street;
- As a major and distinctive cultural entity within Melbourne inner suburbs, with long and deep associations for its past and present community in the endeavours of sport, formation of community groups and local culture (Criteria A, G); and
- Aesthetically, for the largely timber housing, on narrow frontages and in alternating groups of hipped or gabled roof cottages providing a working class residential precinct which is made significant in a metropolitan sense by picturesque hillside siting, the visual confinement by major transport routes, stream valleys, and industrial landscape such as that surviving on the Newmarket saleyards and abattoirs sites and Flemington Racecourse, contain these areas making them easily perceivable as a cultural and physical entity;
- *For the collection of mature plants in street plantings including plane tree avenues and individual specimens of Ulmus procera, now uncommon internationally (Criterion E).*

4.6.1 10 Percy Street, 62 Epsom Road, and 7A Percy Street

Submission 1 relates to 10 Percy Street:

- Building Grading – Ungraded
- Streetscape Grading – 3

Submission 3 relates to 62 Epsom Road:

- Building Grading – Ungraded
- Streetscape Grading – 3

Submission 6 relates to 7A Percy Street:

- Building Grading – Ungraded
- Streetscape Grading – 3

(i) Evidence and submissions

Both submitter 1 in relation to 10 Percy Street and submitter 6 in relation to 7A Percy Street stated that the respective buildings were constructed in the 1980s and therefore should not be included in the Heritage Overlay.

Submitter 3 stated that the building at 62 Epsom Street has been extensively altered including replacing the weatherboards with brick, covering the roof with tin tiles, and replacement of the original doors, windows and verandah. The heritage value of the property was questioned.

Mr Butler in evidence noted that none of the three dwellings are contributory buildings but are included within the extension of the proposed Kensington precinct. He stated:

The Percy Street and surrounding area is a logical extension of the existing Heritage Overlay 9, the Kensington residential area. The omission of this section from the 1980s recommended area was recognition that this part was a less well-preserved part of the proposed Heritage Overlay based largely on architectural integrity.

This review has recognised that historical representation is as important if not more so than aesthetic values in this case where it is the timber construction, fine grain of subdivision, the hillside site and angled street forms within a containment of major transport routes that make this area distinctive as a picturesque expression of a working class Victorian-era residential area.

In relation to the representativeness of the places in the area, Mr Butler stated that 71% of 21 places are representative of Kensington's significant development period and building type and contributory to the significance of the existing Heritage Overlay. He was of the view that the Heritage Overlay should be applied to all three buildings in order to control the future development of the sites to ensure the conservation and enhancement of the precinct.

(ii) Discussion and conclusion

The Panel agrees with Mr Butler that the acknowledgement of historical significance is an important aspect of heritage significance, noting that heritage overlays apply controls to physical fabric so historical significance needs to manifest itself physically in order to be protected (as noted by the Practice Note 'Applying the Heritage Overlay, Revised September 2012'). Having said this, the Panel agrees that the built fabric, in this case being workers cottages, is the manifestation of the historical significance of the area.

The Panel supports the extension of the Kensington Precinct to include properties in Percy Street and Epsom Road. Whilst the Panel observed on its site inspection a number of properties in the precinct including those from the submitters 1, 3 and 6 which are non-contributory buildings, the Panel agrees that a large number of remaining buildings are graded and contribute to the heritage significance and cohesion of the precinct.

The Panel notes that no submissions were received nor was expert evidence provided which challenged the proposed gradings of the contributory buildings in the Percy Street area. The Panel agrees with the approach to include the properties within the Heritage Overlay in order to ensure their redevelopment enhances the overall heritage values of the precinct.

In conclusion, the Panel supports the inclusion of the land variously identified as 10 Percy Street, 62 Epsom Road, and 7A Percy Street in the Heritage Overlay (HO9 Kensington precinct) as exhibited.

Planning and Environment Act 1987

MELBOURNE PLANNING SCHEME

AMENDMENT C215

EXPLANATORY REPORT

Who is the planning authority?

This amendment has been prepared by the City of Melbourne which is the planning authority for this amendment.

Land affected by the amendment

The amendment applies to land in the Kensington Area as detailed in the following map.

What the amendment does

The amendment proposes to:

- Create new Heritage Places (precincts and individual places);
- Transfer a number of existing Heritage Places (precincts and individual places) into new Heritage Places (precincts) and allocate a new reference numbers;
- Amend building gradings and streetscapes of some existing Heritage Places;
- Remove one existing Heritage Place (individual place) from the Heritage Overlay.

The amendment, which implements the recommendations of two recent heritage reviews undertaken by Graeme Butler and Associates titled "The Kensington Heritage Review 2013" and the "Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013", also:

- Amends Clause 22.05 (Heritage Places Outside the Capital City Zone Policy) to ensure that the Review of Heritage Buildings in Kensington 2013, Graeme Butler and the Review of Heritage Buildings: Percy Street 2013, Graeme Butler, are considered when making decisions relating to any of the places and precincts which are the subject of this Amendment;.
- Amends the Schedule to Clause 43.01 (Heritage Overlay) to include new Heritage Places and amends the Heritage Overlay reference number of some existing Heritage Places.
- Replaces Schedule Clause 81.01 (Incorporated Documents) incorporated document "Heritage Places Inventory July 2008" with the document "Heritage Places Inventory October 2014" so that the individual building gradings and streetscape gradings proposed in the Reviews are considered when making decisions relating to any of the places which are the subject of this Amendment.
- Inserts a new incorporated document into the Schedule to Clause 81.01 (Incorporated Documents) titled "Kensington Heritage Review October 2014 Statements of Significance".
- Amends Planning Scheme Map 4HO to include new Heritage Places, amend references to existing Heritage Places and delete one Heritage Place.

Strategic assessment of the amendment

• Why is the amendment required?

The two reviews of heritage buildings in Kensington were undertaken to identify buildings with heritage significance but not currently protected in the Planning Scheme. The review recommended that out of the 554 buildings assessed, 120 heritage buildings should continue to be protected in the planning scheme, and 162 new buildings should be added for heritage protection.

This amendment seeks to implement the recommendations of the Reviews by proposing heritage protection for the identified buildings. Inclusion of additional precincts into the Heritage Overlay, boundary changes and Statements of Significance for precincts and individually significant buildings are required to recognise and protect identified buildings.

• How does the amendment implement the objectives of planning in Victoria?

By including buildings of historic and aesthetic significance in the Heritage Overlay, the proposed amendment implements the following objective under Section 4 of the Planning and Environment Act 1987:

(d) to conserve and enhance those buildings, areas or other places which are of scientific, aesthetic, architectural or historical interest, or otherwise of special cultural value

- How does the amendment address the environmental effects and any relevant social and economic effects?

The amendment will have positive social effects by recognising building fabric that represents the layers of development in the Kensington area. Heritage places also add character, appeal and interest to our city. Respect for our cultural heritage involves retaining and managing places that have importance to us as the community. The inclusion of new places in the Heritage Overlay will ensure the conservation of Melbourne's history for present and future generations.

- Does the amendment address relevant bushfire risk?

There is no increased risk of bushfires occurring from the changes proposed to the Melbourne Planning Scheme.

- Does the amendment comply with the requirements of any Minister's Direction applicable to the amendment?

The amendment is consistent with the Ministerial Direction on the Form and Content of Planning Schemes under section 7(5) of the Act.

The amendment complies with Ministerial Direction No.9-Metropolitan Strategy and specifically supports Direction No.5, Policy 5.4-"Protect heritage places and values".

The amendment complies with Ministerial Direction No 11-Strategic Assessment of Amendments.

- How does the amendment support or implement the State Planning Policy Framework and any adopted State policy?

The amendment supports the objective of Clause 15.03 of the State Planning Policy Framework to assist the conservation of places that have historical significance.

By including the identified places in the Heritage Overlay, Council will be fulfilling the State objective of identifying, conserving and protecting places of natural or cultural value.

- How does the amendment support or implement the Local Planning Policy Framework, and specifically the Municipal Strategic Statement?

The amendment supports the objectives and the strategies in Clause 21.06-2 of the Municipal Strategic Statement by conserving places of identified heritage significance. The amendment also supports the objectives of Clause 22.05 (Heritage Places outside the Capital City Zone Policy) of the Local Planning Policy Framework, which seek to conserve, promote and protect places of heritage value throughout the municipality.

- Does the amendment make proper use of the Victoria Planning Provisions?

The Schedule to the Heritage Overlay is the proper Victorian Planning Provision tool for the introduction of heritage controls over a place identified to be of heritage significance. The amendment addresses the requirements of the Planning Practice Note "Applying the Heritage Overlay, September 2012".

This Practice Note states that places identified in local heritage studies should be included in the Heritage Overlay if the significance of the place can be established. The identification of heritage places using established criteria and documentation methods is an important consideration in proposing the inclusion of heritage places in the Schedule to the Heritage Overlay.

- How does the amendment address the views of any relevant agency?

The views of any relevant agencies have not been sought. Council will engage with affected property owners and relevant key community groups during the public exhibition phase of the amendment.

- Does the amendment address relevant requirements of the Transport Integration Act 2010?

The amendment is unlikely to have on the transport system as defined by Section 3 of the Transport Integration Act 2010.

Resource and administrative costs

- What impact will the new planning provisions have on the resource and administrative costs of the responsible authority?

The inclusion of additional places within the Schedule to the Heritage Overlay may contribute to a minor increase in the number of planning permit applications on an annual basis.

However, this increase can be accommodated within existing resources. These resource and administration costs will be off-set by a reduction in the need for individual responses to the possible demolition of significant heritage places which are not currently included within the Schedule to the Heritage Overlay.

Panel hearing dates

In accordance with clause 4(2) of Ministerial Direction No.15 the following panel hearing dates have been set for this amendment:

- Directions hearing: early June 2014
- Panel hearing: late July 2014

22.05 HERITAGE PLACES OUTSIDE THE CAPITAL CITY ZONE

07/04/2008
C / /2014
Proposed
C215

This policy applies to all places within the Heritage Overlay Area excluding the Capital City Zone and the Docklands Zone.

Policy Basis

The Municipal Strategic Statement identifies that Melbourne has a high-quality, rich and diverse urban environment. Heritage is an extremely significant component of Melbourne's attractiveness, its character and its distinction, and therefore its appeal as a place to live, work and visit. This policy is the mechanism to conserve and enhance places and areas of architectural, social or historic significance and aboriginal archaeological sites and to encourage development which is in harmony with the existing character and appearance of designated heritage places and areas. This policy is consistent with policy document Urban Conservation in the City of Melbourne, which has been in operation since 1985 and has contributed to the conservation of the character of places of heritage significance.

Objectives

- To conserve all parts of buildings of historic, social or architectural interest which contribute to the significance, character and appearance of the building, streetscape or area.
- To ensure that new development, and the construction or external alteration of buildings, make a positive contribution to the built form and amenity of the area and are respectful to the architectural, social or historic character and appearance of the streetscape and the area.
- To promote the identification, protection and management of aboriginal cultural heritage values.

Policy

The following matters will be taken into account when considering planning applications for Heritage Places within the Heritage Overlay.

Performance Standards for Assessing Planning Applications

The performance standards outline the criteria by which the heritage aspects of planning applications will be assessed. Definitions of words used in these performance standards and an explanation of building and streetscape gradings are included at the end of this policy.

In considering applications under the Heritage Overlay, regard should be given to the buildings listed in the individual conservation studies and their significance as described by their individual Building Identification Sheets and the Kensington Statements of Significance, both of which includes information on the age, style, notable features, integrity and condition of the building. ~~The Building Identification Sheet includes information on the age, style, notable features, integrity and condition of the building.~~

Demolition

Demolishing or removing original parts of buildings, as well as complete buildings, will not normally be permitted in the case of 'A' and 'B', the front part of 'C' and many 'D' graded buildings. The front part of a building is generally considered to be the front two rooms in depth.

Before deciding on an application for demolition of a graded building the responsible authority will consider as appropriate:

- The degree of its significance.
- The character and appearance of the building or works and its contribution to the architectural, social or historic character and appearance of the streetscape and the area.
- Whether the demolition or removal of any part of the building contributes to the long-term conservation of the significant fabric of that building.
- Whether the demolition or removal is justified for the development of land or the alteration of, or addition to, a building.

A demolition permit should not be granted until the proposed replacement building or works have been approved.

Renovating Graded Buildings

Intact significant external fabric on any part of an outstanding building, and on any visible part of a contributory building, should be preserved. Guidelines on what should be preserved are included in Urban Conservation in the City of Melbourne.

In considering a planning application to remove or alter any fabric, consideration will be given to:

- The degree of its significance.
- Its contribution to the significance, character and appearance of a building or a streetscape.
- Its structural condition.
- The character and appearance of proposed replacement materials.
- The contribution of the features of the building to its historic or social significance.

Where there is evidence of what a building originally looked like, renovation of any part of an outstanding building, or any visible part of a contributory building, should form part of an authentic restoration or reconstruction process, or should not preclude it at a future date. Evidence of what a building used to look like might include other parts of the building or early photographs and plans.

Where there is no evidence of what a building originally looked like, renovations should preferably be respectful of an interpretive modern design, rather than "guesswork" reconstruction or any other form of reproduction design.

Sandblasting and Painting of Previously Unpainted Surfaces

Sandblasting of render, masonry or timber surfaces and painting of previously unpainted surfaces will not normally be permitted.

Designing New Buildings and Works or Additions to Existing Buildings

Form

The external shape of a new building, and of an addition to an existing building, should be respectful in a Level 1 or 2 streetscape, or interpretive in a Level 3 streetscape.

Facade Pattern and Colours

The facade pattern and colours of a new building, and of an addition or alteration to an existing building, should be respectful where visible in a Level 1 streetscape, and interpretive elsewhere.

Materials

The surface materials of a new building, and of an addition or alteration to an existing building, should always be respectful.

Details

The details (including verandahs, ornaments, windows and doors, fences, shopfronts and advertisements) of a new building, and of an addition or alteration to an existing building, should preferably be interpretive, that is, a simplified modern interpretation of the historic form rather than a direct reproduction.

Concealment Of Higher Rear Parts (Including Additions)

Higher rear parts of a new building, and of an addition to an existing graded building, should be concealed in a Level 1 streetscape, and partly concealed in a Level 2 and 3 streetscape. Also, additions to outstanding buildings ('A' and 'B' graded buildings anywhere in the municipality) should always be concealed. In most instances, setting back a second-storey addition to a single-storey building, at least 8 metres behind the front facade will achieve concealment.

Facade Height and Setback (New Buildings)

The facade height and position should not dominate an adjoining outstanding building in any streetscape, or an adjoining contributory building in a Level 1 or 2 streetscape. Generally, this means that the building should neither exceed in height, nor be positioned forward of, the specified adjoining building. Conversely, the height of the facade should not be significantly lower than typical heights in the streetscape. The facade should also not be set back significantly behind typical building lines in the streetscape.

Building Height

The height of a building should respect the character and scale of adjoining buildings and the streetscape. New buildings or additions within residential areas consisting of predominantly single and two-storey terrace houses should be respectful and interpretive.

Archaeological Sites

Proposed development must not impact adversely on the aboriginal cultural heritage values, as indicated in an archaeologist's report, for any site known to contain aboriginal archaeological relics.

Sites of Historic or Social Significance

An assessment of a planning application should take into account all aspects of the significance of the place. Consideration should be given to the degree to which the existing fabric demonstrates the historic and social significance of the place, and how the proposal will affect this significance. Particular care should be taken in the assessment of cases where the diminished architectural condition of the place is outweighed by its historic or social value.

Definitions of Words Used in the Performance Standards

Concealed means not visible from any part of the street serving the front of the building, as defined under 'visible'. 'Partly concealed' means that a limited amount of the addition or higher rear part may be visible, provided it does not dominate the appearance of the building's facade and the streetscape.

Conservation means looking after a place to retain its heritage significance. It may include maintenance, preservation, restoration, reconstruction and adaptation to accommodate new uses.

Context means:

- The surrounding area as a whole
- Adjoining or nearby significant buildings or works
- In the case of additions or alterations, significant parts of the subject building.

Contributory building means a 'C' grade building anywhere in the municipality, or a 'D' grade building in a Level 1 or Level 2 streetscape.

Cultural significance means aesthetic, historic, scientific or social value for past, present and future generations.

Enhancement means:

- Encouraging removal of buildings or objects that detract from an area's character and appearance.
- Allowing replacement of buildings or objects that do not contribute to an area's character and significance by a building of a sympathetic new design.
- Allowing new works specifically designed to enhance an area's character and appearance.

Fabric means all the physical material of the place.

Outstanding building means a grade A or B building anywhere in the municipality.

Preservation means maintaining the fabric of a place in its existing state and retarding deterioration.

Reconstruction means returning a place as nearly as possible to a known earlier state and is distinguished by the introduction of materials (new or old) into the fabric. This is not to be confused with either 'recreation' or 'conjectural reconstruction'.

Respectful and interpretive refer to design that honestly admits its modernity while relating to the historic or architecturally significant character of its context. 'Respectful' means a design approach in which historic building size, form, proportions, colours and materials are adopted, but modern interpretations are used instead of copies of historic detailing and decorative work. 'Interpretive' means a looser reference to historic size, form, proportions, colours, detailing and decoration, but still requires use of historic or closely equivalent materials.

Restoration means returning the existing fabric of a place to a known earlier state by removing accretions or later additions or by reassembling existing components without the introduction of new material.

Significant means of historic, architectural or social value for past, present or future generations. All graded buildings are significant. 'Significant parts' of a graded building means parts which contribute to the historic, architectural or social value of the building. The Building Identification Forms within City of Melbourne Conservation Schedule highlight many of the significant parts of each building.

Visible means anything that can be seen from any part of the street serving the front of the building including:

- Side elevations that are readily visible from the front street.
- Anything that can be seen from a side or rear laneway, if the laneway itself is classified as a Level 1 or 2 streetscape.

Grading of Buildings and Streetscape Levels

Every building of cultural significance has been assessed and graded according to its importance. Streetscapes, that is complete collections of buildings along a street frontage, have also been graded for planning control purposes. The individual buildings are grade A to D, the streetscapes from Level 1 to 3, both in descending order of significance. The grade of every building and streetscape is identified in the incorporated document Heritage Places Inventory 2000.

'A' Buildings

'A' buildings are of national or state importance, and are irreplaceable parts of Australia's built form heritage. Many will be either already included on, or recommended for inclusion on the Victorian Heritage Register or the Register of the National Estate.

'B' Buildings

'B' buildings are of regional or metropolitan significance, and stand as important milestones in the architectural development of the metropolis. Many will be either already included on, or recommended for inclusion on the Register of the National Estate.

'C' Buildings

'C' buildings. Demonstrate the historical or social development of the local area and /or make an important aesthetic or scientific contribution. These buildings comprise a variety of styles and building types. Architecturally they are substantially intact, but where altered, it is reversible. In some instances, buildings of high individual historic, scientific or social significance may have a greater degree of alteration.

'D' buildings

'D' buildings are representative of the historical, scientific, architectural or social development of the local area. They are often reasonably intact representatives of particular periods, styles or building types. In many instances alterations will be reversible. They may also be altered examples which stand within a group of similar period, style or type or a street which retains much of its original character. Where they stand in a row or street, the collective group will provide a setting which reinforces the value of the individual buildings.

Level 1 Streetscapes

Level 1 streetscapes are collections of buildings outstanding either because they are a particularly well preserved group from a similar period or style, or because they are highly significant buildings in their own right.

Level 2 Streetscapes

Level 2 streetscapes are of significance either because they still retain the predominant character and scale of a similar period or style, or because they contain individually significant buildings.

Level 3 Streetscapes

Level 3 streetscapes may contain significant buildings, but they will be from diverse periods or styles, and of low individual significance or integrity.

1. INTRODUCTION

Each building with cultural heritage significance located within the City of Melbourne has been assessed and graded according to its importance. Streetscapes, that is complete collections of buildings along a street frontage, have also been assessed and graded. Individual buildings are graded from A to E, while streetscapes are graded from Level 1 to 3, both in descending order of significance.

All graded buildings and streetscapes are included as heritage places in the Heritage Overlay of the Melbourne Planning Scheme.

This document lists graded buildings (and the associated streetscape grading) that are situated outside of the Capital City Zone (CCZ). The property listings are divided into the following eight geographical areas:

- Carlton;
- East Melbourne and Jolimont;
- Flemington and Kensington;
- Melbourne;
- North and West Melbourne;
- Parkville;
- Southbank; and
- South Yarra.

The attached “Heritage Inventory Geographical Areas” map shows the location of each of the above areas. Within each area individual properties are listed alphabetically by street name and numerically, with all odd street numbers appearing first followed by even numbers.

In addition to this document further information regarding every graded building is recorded on the relevant “Building Identification Form”. These Building Identification Forms are available for inspection at Council’s Development Planning Department.

The performance standards applied by Council when considering relevant permit applications are dependent on the particular building and streetscape grading. These performance standards are set out in the “Heritage Places Outside The Capital City Zone” local policy at Clause 22.05 of the Melbourne Planning Scheme. This local policy only applies to places within the Heritage Overlay Area that are situated outside of the Capital City Zone.

The building and streetscape grading definitions are provided on the following page.

2. DEFINITIONS

2.1 Buildings

The definitions used for each of the building gradings are as follows:

‘A’ Graded Buildings

These buildings are of national or state importance, and are irreplaceable parts of Australia’s built form heritage. Many will be either already included on or recommended for the Victorian Heritage Register or the Register of the National Estate.

‘B’ Graded Buildings

These buildings are of regional or metropolitan significance, and stand as important milestones in the architectural development of the metropolis. Many will be either already included on or recommended for inclusion on the Register of the National Estate.

‘C’ Graded Buildings

These buildings demonstrate the historical or social development of the local area and/ or make an important aesthetic or scientific contribution. These buildings comprise a variety of styles and buildings types. Architecturally they are substantially intact, but where altered, it is reversible. In some instances, buildings of high individual historic, scientific or social significance may have a greater degree of alteration.

‘D’ Graded Buildings

These buildings are representative of the historical, scientific, architectural or social development of the local area. They are often reasonably intact representatives of particular periods, styles or building types. In many instances alterations will be reversible. They may also be altered examples which stand within a group of similar period, style or type or a street which retains much of its original character. Where they stand in a row or street, the collective group will provide a setting which reinforces the value of the individual buildings.

‘E’ Graded Buildings

These buildings have generally been substantially altered and stand in relative isolation from other buildings of similar periods. Because of this they are not considered to make an essential contribution to the character of the area, although retention and restoration may still be beneficial.

2.2 Streetscapes

The definitions used for each of the streetscape gradings are as follows:

Level 1 Streetscape

These streetscapes are collections of buildings outstanding either because they are a particularly well-preserved group from a similar period or style, or because they are highly significant buildings in their own right.

Level 2 Streetscape

These streetscapes are of significance either because they still retain the predominant character and scale of a similar period or style, or because they contain individually significant buildings.

Level 3 Streetscape

These streetscapes may contain significant buildings, but they will be from diverse periods or styles, and of low individual significance or integrity.

This document is an incorporated document in the Melbourne planning Scheme pursuant to section 6(2)(j) of the Planning and Environment Act 1987

HERITAGE AREAS

Barnett Street north residential precinct

Barnett Street 2 -24, 7-27

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Barnett Street north residential sub-precinct includes:

The Victorian period masonry and timber, all generally taking on the characteristics of the Victorian-era subdivision, with similar building set-back and range of materials.

The precinct includes:

- Mainly single-fronted, single-storey Victorian period brick and timber clad houses with front verandahs, hipped roofs and chimneys;
- Masonry rows and close siting of weatherboard examples, built close to the street;
- Victorian period masonry core comprised of 6-10, 23-27 creates the character of this precinct.
- Fences are typically replaced, and iron verandah ornament gone or replaced.

How is it significant?

The Barnett Street north residential precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

The Barnett Street north residential precinct is significant;

Historically, as representing well the typical 19th century housing type of the Kensington residential area and because it includes some of the few masonry house rows in Kensington; also most houses in this part of Barnett Street were leased out (some by flour miller Thomas Gillespie), underscoring the working class character of the area that extended well into the 20th (Criterion A);

Aesthetically, for the contribution of the well-preserved Victorian-era masonry rows and their visual counterpoint to the more modest but typical timber houses adjoining and opposite (Criterion E).

Barnett Street south residential precinct, part former Barnett Street Urban Conservation Area

Barnett Street 32 -100, 31-97; Robertson Street 3-49

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Barnett Street south residential precinct includes:

The Victorian period timber and brick cottages with some Edwardian period examples, all generally taking on the characteristics of the Victorian-era subdivision, building set-back and range of materials.

On the east side of the street:

- Single-fronted, single-storey Victorian period timber houses with front verandahs, hipped roofs and chimneys;
- close siting, built close to the street ;
- well-preserved examples such as 65, 73-77 and 81-91 Barnett Street.

On the west side:

- a mixture of double and single fronted timber Edwardian houses, such as 58-62 Barnett Street;
- strong Victorian period masonry core comprised of 68-88 dominate the character of this precinct;
- A row of elevated Victorian period timber cottages similar to those opposite, each with fair integrity.

Fences are typically replaced, some roofs reclad and iron verandah ornament gone or replaced. Stone pitched right-of-ways are contributory.

How is it significant?

The Barnett Street south residential sub-precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

The Barnett Street south residential sub-precinct is significant;

Historically, as representing well the typical 19th century housing type of the Kensington residential area and because it includes one of the few long masonry house rows (on the west side) in Kensington, in this case associated with the wealthy brewer RK Montgomerie; also Most houses in this part of Barnett Street were leased out, underscoring the working class character of the area that extended well into the 20th (Criterion A);

Aesthetically, for the contribution of the above well-preserved Victorian-era masonry row and its visual interaction with and counterpoint to the more modest timber houses adjoining and opposite (Criterion E).

Montgomerie's row houses

Barnett Street 68 -90

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

Built 1889-90 for the wealthy Melbourne brewer, RK Montgomerie, these row houses include:

- probable architect design and hence distinctive details;
- extensive use of tuck-pointed coloured brickwork that is uncommon in Kensington;
- pressed and moulded cement detailing on dividing walls and chimneys;
- generally hipped roof duplex form, with single-fronted houses at either end (68, 90 Barnett Street),
- roofs clad with corrugated iron;
- elevated siting;
- prominent symmetrically arranged cemented chimneys;
- some unpainted stucco as most chimneys and at 68 Barnett Street;
- cast iron verandah detailing and well-preserved timber joinery, with side lights to façade windows; and
- generally high integrity.

How is it significant?

Montgomerie's row houses are significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Montgomerie's row houses are significant:

Historically as highly representative of the key growth period in the suburb while presenting a variant on the local norm by extensive use of masonry construction and for the close link with the well known and important brewer, RK Montgomerie as perhaps his best preserved speculative residential development (Criterion A); and

Aesthetically, for the extensive use of coloured brickwork and distinctive stucco detailing over an extensive house row which has well-preserved applied ornament and an overall skilful composition, with the end houses as a visual termination, and for the key contributory role in the Barnett Street South precinct (Criterion E).

Collett, Nottingham and Parsons Streets precinct, former Collett, Nottingham and Parsons Streets Urban Conservation Area.

Collett Street 2 -26, 3-29; Nottingham Street 1-15; Parsons Street 23-41

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

Collett, Nottingham and Parsons Streets precinct includes:

- Early core of typically single-storey late Victorian-era timber housing but the individually notable and brick 2-4 Collett Street;
- Subsequent timber cottage development with picturesque and decorated Edwardian gables (see 10-14 Collett Street) or Victorian-era character, most with relatively high integrity and characteristics that are complementary to the previous period;
- Low key and contributory Bungalow period development (evident at 16-18 Collett Street);
- some relative diversity in scale and the materials in Nottingham Street, with similar late Victorian and Edwardian development;
- notable trio of Edwardian detached timber cottages (37-41 Parsons Street), supplemented by an altered Victorian pair and a brick trio of superficially altered row houses (27-31 Parsons Street).

Few houses retain original verandah ornament or front fences but many of these elements have been reconstructed.

Stone paved right-of-ways are contributory.

How is it significant?

Collett, Nottingham and Parsons Streets precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

Collett, Nottingham and Parsons Streets precinct is significant.

Historically, as representing well Kensington's typical timber Victorian and Edwardian period housing, both row-type and detached With major alterations being confined to the eastern side of Collett Street and part of Parsons Street (Criterion A); and Aesthetically for some individually notable houses: combining with the more typical Victorian & Edwardian-era houses in a picturesque manner, within overall similarities of frontage width, scale and set-back (Criterion E).

William Adams' investment house precinct

Eastwood Street 73 -77

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

William Adams' investment house precinct, built in 1913 for a slater as a three house development (73-77 Eastwood Street), includes:

- Federation Bungalow styling with Arts & Crafts detailing to chimneys;
- Prominent corner siting for the key house of the precinct, with elevations successfully addressing both frontages;
- high hipped and gabled roof forms, slate clad with terra-cotta capping, ridging and finials;
- front verandahs as bullnose profile or bellcast extension of the main roof;
- ornate cast-iron verandah detail, with characteristic turned timber posts;
- red face brickwork for walls, with stucco trim;
- casement window groups; and
- shingling in the gable ends, with timber truss details.

How is it significant?

William Adams' investment house precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

William Adams' investment house precinct is significant.

Historically, as well-preserved and prominently sited example of an artisan's own speculative but important Edwardian-era housing group, including one of the more substantial houses from the key Edwardian and Victorian-eras that make up Kensington's significant development phase (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, for the distinctive detailing, styling, form, materials and corner siting, as a key building group within Eastwood Street (Criterion E).

Lambeth Street streetscape, former Lambeth Street Urban Conservation Area

Lambeth Street 37 -59

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Lambeth Street sub-precinct of single-storey, mainly masonry Victorian-era and Edwardian-era houses includes:

- key Victorian-era house rows such as the 1885 brick parapeted row 45-51 Lambeth Street also the row at 41-30 Lambeth Street and a similar pair at 37-39 at Lambeth Street;
- 53-5 Lambeth Street, not parapeted but of the same period, with 57-59 Lambeth Street as an Edwardian example which is atypically of timber house but relates in detail to the precinct; and
- built character that includes siting close to the street, expressed pitched roof forms with chimneys, front post-supported verandah elements; applied ornament and often symmetrical composition.

Most contributory houses retain sufficient detail to allow restoration of the whole. The stone paved rear right-of-way is contributory

How is it significant?

The Lambeth Street sub-precinct significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

The Lambeth Street sub-precinct is significant:

Historically as expressive of the key significant growth era of the Kensington locality, as leased worker housing built for investment (Criterion A); and

Aesthetically as a streetscape which faithfully represents masonry 19th Century row house construction in Kensington, an area more commonly built of wood at that time (Criterion E).

Parsons Street west precinct

Parsons Street 4 -12; Eastwood Street 33 rear, 35

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Parsons Street west precinct, built up from c1900 to the 1930s includes:

- streetscapes and individual examples of painted weatherboard Edwardian-era houses with ornate cast-iron verandah detailing, half-timbering and picturesque hipped and gabled roof forms;
- significant pair of stuccoed inter-war houses in the Spanish style which relate in scale and form to adjoining houses;
- commercial stable in red brick;
- generally one storey scale, with pitched roof forms, and detached siting.

How is it significant?

Parsons Street west precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

Parsons Street west precinct is significant

Historically, as a representation of two key periods of housing development within the locality, Edwardian-era and inter-war; also for the juxtaposition of a large commercial stable building in the precinct, set close to houses, as indicative of the mix of uses in residential areas and, as well, illustrating key theme in the area's history which included horse related industry including carriers and horse training (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, as good examples of architectural form, detailing and styling from two main eras of the area's housing development (Criterion E).

Parsons Street South Streetscape

Parsons Street 34 -42

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Parsons Street South Streetscape, built up in the late Victorian-era:

- streetscapes and individual examples of brick, mainly single-storey attached Victorian-era houses with ornate cast-iron verandah detailing;
- significant terrace house, 34, in the Italian Renaissance revival style which relate in siting and form to adjoining houses;
- generally pitched roof forms set behind parapets, with chimneys.

How is it significant?

Parsons Street South Streetscape is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

Parsons Street South Streetscape is significant

Historically, as a representation of a key boom period of housing development within the locality, Victorian-era; also for the juxtaposition of a large commercial stable building in the precinct, set close to houses, as indicative of the mix of uses in residential areas and, as well, illustrating key theme in the area's history which included horse related industry including carriers and horse training (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, as good and well-preserved examples of architectural form, detailing and styling from the main era of the area's housing development and a major heritage element in the Kensington residential area (Criterion E).

Pridham Street north residential precinct

Pridham Street 1 -31, 16-30

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Pridham Street north residential streetscape was built up substantially in the Victorian & Edwardian-eras and includes both contributory and significant residential buildings, with:

- ornamental stucco detailing mainly derived from Italian Renaissance sources;
- coloured decorative brickwork;
- window groupings as a small percentage of the façade wall area;
- weatherboard and some masonry construction;
- verandahed forms on street elevations;
- chimneys;
- one storey scale;
- mainly pitched but some parapeted rooflines, with some slate but mainly corrugated iron cladding;
- siting on or close to the street.

How is it significant?

The Pridham Street north residential streetscape is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Pridham Street north residential streetscape is significant

Historically, as an early residential streetscape in the Kensington east area that extends southward from the significant Racecourse Road commercial precinct established there on a major route to the hinterland during Kensington's late Victorian boom-era. The streetscape includes some individually notable detailing but is mainly made up of contributory Victorian and Edwardian-era houses (Criterion A); and Aesthetically for the well-preserved examples of adapted Italian Renaissance Revival design and detailed ornamentation of the residential places. The streetscape is contributory to the overall Kensington heritage character and complements the nearby Racecourse Road and Rankins Road heritage commercial precincts (Criterion E).

Rankins Road north streetscape

Rankins Road 10 -34

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

The Rankins Road north streetscape was built up substantially in the Victorian-era and includes both contributory and significant residential and commercial buildings, with:

- ornamental stucco detailing mainly derived from Italian Renaissance sources;
- window groupings as a small percentage of the façade wall area;
- masonry construction, verandahed forms on street elevations;
- chimneys;
- one and two storey scale;
- pitched and parapeted rooflines, with slate and corrugated iron cladding;
- siting on or close to the street; and
- landmark street-corner commercial buildings that frame the streetscape.

The semi-mature plane trees enhance the place.

How is it significant?

The Rankins Road north streetscape is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

The Rankins Road north streetscape is significant.

Historically, as an early commercial and residential core in the Kensington east area that extends southward from Racecourse Road and the contemporary commercial strip established there on a major route to the hinterland during Kensington's late Victorian boom-era. The streetscape includes some individually significant places such as the Edwardian-era UFS dispensary and the nearby shop & residence rows that have since been converted to residential use as a sign of the changing fate of the locality (Criterion A); and Aesthetically for the well-preserved examples of Italian renaissance and free style design among the larger buildings and detailed ornamentation of the residential places. The streetscape is contributory to the overall Kensington heritage character and specifically to the nearby Racecourse Road heritage commercial precinct (Criterion E).

Kensington Railway Station commercial & residential precinct, former Rankins Road South Urban Conservation Area.

Rankins Road 137 -173, 128-132; Eastwood Street 127; Macaulay Road 458-460

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

Kensington Railway Station commercial & residential sub-precinct includes:

- the triangular forecourt to the highly significant and elevated Kensington Railway Station, as a plantation reserve created from land left over by the railway reserve's oblique bisection of two lots of the Kensington village government survey purchased in 1849 by J Rankin;
- a visually related built perimeter to enclose the plantation reserve, dating from Victorian-era to inter-war;
- Stone kerbs and channels, stone paved right-of-ways;
- semi-mature plane tree avenues providing a similarly visually unifying effect;
- Edwardian period villa housing spreading south from Robertson Street being generally double-fronted, and of timber, with two Edwardian period houses(130-132 Rankins Road) occupying the north perimeter of the garden square;
- Victorian-era, First War and later commercial buildings advancing north from Macaulay Road, all inspired by improvements to railway services (for example see 169-175 and 153-155 Rankins Rd (inter-war), the Railway Buildings being Victorian-era shop and residences at 147-151 Rankins Road).

How is it significant?

Kensington Railway Station commercial & residential sub-precinct is significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington

Why is it significant?

Kensington Railway Station commercial & residential sub-precinct is significant

Historically as a physical expression of the effect of the Kensington Railway Station siting, with commercial development lining major approaches to the station and both Victorian-era and Edwardian-era housing stimulated by proximity to this vital transport venue (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, for the unusual village square character created by visually related residential and commercial streetscapes mainly of early 20th century which provide enclosure to the forecourt of the important Kensington Railway Station while also presenting individual architectural qualities (Criterion A).

Smith Street Victorian-era residential streetscape

Smith Street 44 -52

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

Smith Street Victorian-era residential streetscape(44-52 Smith Street), built in the late 1880s, includes:

- A group of five Italianate style weatherboard clad late Victorian-era houses;
- corrugated iron clad main and verandah roofs, hipped in form;
- moulded eaves brackets and entablatures;
- verandahs detailed with cast-iron fixed to timber framing;
- both double and single-fronted (44, 48 double-fronted) and detached;
- 50-52 Smith Street as an attached pair;
- each with prominent stuccoed chimneys, with moulded tops; and
- some altered, with new verandah detail.

How is it significant?

Smith Street Victorian-era residential streetscape is contributory historically and aesthetically to the Kensington heritage precinct.

Why is it significant?

Smith Street Victorian-era residential streetscape is contributory:

Historically, as representative workers' houses of their period constituting a discrete group in the Kensington residential streetscape and contributing to its historic values, as well as the residential population surge in Kensington in the late 19th century (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, for the cast-iron detailing and Italianate styling seen in key parts of the group (Criterion E).

- extensive use of tuck-pointed coloured brickwork that is uncommon in Kensington;
- pressed and moulded cement detailing on dividing walls and chimneys;
- generally hipped roof duplex form, with single-fronted houses at either end (68, 90 Barnett Street),
- roofs clad with corrugated iron;
- elevated siting;
- prominent symmetrically arranged cemented chimneys;
- some unpainted stucco as most chimneys and at 68 Barnett Street;
- cast iron verandah detailing and well-preserved timber joinery, with side lights to façade windows; and
- generally high integrity.

How is it significant?

Montgomerie's row houses are significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Montgomerie's row houses are significant:

Historically as highly representative of the key growth period in the suburb while presenting a variant on the local norm by extensive use of masonry construction and for the close link with the well known and important brewer, RK Montgomerie as perhaps his best preserved speculative residential development (Criterion A); and

Aesthetically, for the extensive use of coloured brickwork and distinctive stucco detailing over an extensive house row which has well-preserved applied ornament and an overall skilful composition, with the end houses as a visual termination, and for the key contributory role in the Barnett Street South precinct (Criterion E).

Significant individually? yes

Contributory to precinct? Yes

Statement of Significance

What is significant?

Fennah's shops & residences, built 1889 for William Fennah, include:

- two storey Italian Renaissance revival style commercial pair on a corner site;
- brick (part painted) and stuccoed (some natural finish) upper level with moulded cement work including balustraded parapet with piers, parapet orbs;
- panelled pilasters, with roundels, on the main and side façade (34);
- early painted sign on the side elevation 'The Quality Butcher';
- segmentally arched double-hung sash window pairs linked with impost and sill courses;
- dominating scale in the streetscape and relationship with the significant shop & residence row opposite, creating a loosely formed commercial precinct.

The shopfronts have been replaced with walls and windows to form a residence and the side elevation has been extended in matching manner.

How is it significant?

Fennah's shops & residences are significant historically and aesthetically to Kensington.

Why is it significant?

Fennah's shops & residences are significant

Historically, as a major development in the early formation of this largely Victorian-era commercial area around Rankins and Racecourse Roads, reflecting directly the population growth in Kensington in the late 19th century with subdivision of the old Crown sections (Criterion A); and Aesthetically, as a prominent Italian Renaissance revival shop pair that, as a corner site, relates well with adjacent shops from a similar period (Criterion E).
